A business book for Home Funeral Guides

The NHFA has published Essentials for Practicing Home Funeral Guides, a 68-page book containing documents that every home funeral guide needs to organize necessary paperwork in order to ensure consistent, quality service to families caring for their own after death.

It is a manual, template, and best practices all-in-one collection. There are forms you can copy and use, as well as general information.

Last call for NHFA Board of Directors nominations!

We are looking for someone with any of the following:

What to say when you hear, "We can only release a body to a funeral director"

Are you having trouble getting a hospital or care facility to release a body to the family because of 'liability'? We partnered with the Funeral Consumer Alliance to help you deal with authorities who aren't familiar with legal rights of families.

Join us each month

2nd Sunday, July 14, 7pm CST

Every second Sunday we host our member teleconferences - your time to connect, support and learn from each other. This month's host, NHFA President Lee Webster, will open it up for a 'free for all' sharing, including a chance to get to know some other board members better. We'll be talking about home funerals and sharing stories together, with time for questions. We'd love to have you on the call so you can connect with our home funeral community.
